YOUR LEAVE PROGRAMS

Your leave may consist of a combination of the following:

PAID MILITARY LEAVE

All Benefit Eligible employees are eligible for paid Military Leave as of your benefits effective date. Military Leave consists of five days (40 hours) of paid time off for full-time employees. For part-time employees on the 24/32-hour work week, the time is pro-rated to 24 or 32 hours respectively. Paid Military Time can be taken in a single continuous block of time or employees may break-up this time and to take it intermittently. Paid Time Benefits (PTB) accruals will not be affected, and holidays will be paid while on approved Military Leave. Paid Military Leave will run concurrently with USERRA Leave.

Benesch pays 40 hours of military paid leave by calendar year. Military employees who need to take more time off (beyond 40 hours) within the same calendar year may use banked time or PTB balances.

USERRA

USERRA leave covers the military member only. This would be used for an employee's own military duty.

- Entitlement is up to five years
- A copy of the military member's active duty orders are requested, however, it is not required for leave approval.

Eligibility for USERRA

Under USERRA Military Leave, which covers the military member only, there is no service month or service hour requirement. Employees are eligible upon first date of employment. Paid Time Benefits (PTB) accruals will not be affected, and holidays will be paid while on approved USERRA leave.

What branches of the military qualify?

- Active military in all branches of service (excluding militias)
- Reserve component of the Army National Guard of the United States
- Army Reserve
- Navy Reserve
- Marine Corps Reserve
- Air National Guard of the United States
- Air Force Reserve and Coast Guard Reserve
- Retired members of the regular armed forces or reserve

FMLA: MILITARY EXIGENCY

Military Exigency falls under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and may be used for reasons other than an employee's own military duty, such as to care for a family member.

- Allows for up to 12 weeks off in a 12-month period.
- To take a qualifying exigency leave, the military member must be the employee's spouse, parent or child (biological, adopted, or foster child, stepchild, legal ward, or a child for whom the employee has stood in loco parentis) who has served in a qualifying Armed Forces branch.

Required documentation is as follows:

- An Exigency Certification form
- A copy of the military member's active-duty orders
- A statement or description of the appropriate facts regarding the qualifying exigency reason

Eligibility for FMLA: Military Exigency

Benesch employees who have worked a minimum of 1,250 hours for at least 12 months are eligible for Military Exigency to care for a family member. Paid Time Benefits (PTB) accruals will not be affected, and holidays will be paid while on approved Military Exigency leave.

What reasons may allow an employee to use the military exigency leave?

- Short notice deployment
- Military events and activities
- Parental care
- Childcare and school activities
- Financial care and arrangements
- Military member care
- Counseling
- Rest and recuperation
- Post-deployment ceremonies, activities and functions
- Any other activities or events as a result of military service

WHILE YOU ARE OUT

Here is a high-level overview of important points to consider while you are out on leave.

TIME ENTRY & SYSTEM ACCESS

- Enter your time through your last day worked, if possible.
- If you are a benefits eligible employee, enter the Paid Military Leave code in Deltek Vantagepoint for the first five days of Military Leave. If you are not using any PTB during your leave, your timesheet will remain blank for the remainder of your leave. Please charge 00000039.xx (xx being your Division number) or email benefits@benesch.com and the team can enter it for you.
- You will not lose access to the Benesch network or company email while on leave. However, you should not work while you are out.

SUBMITTING EXPENSES

Please make every effort to submit your expenses incurred prior to your leave date. You should not be incurring expenses while on leave, and you should discuss with your supervisor any expenses you believe you may incur during your absence.

MISSED BENEFIT PREMIUMS

If you plan to take any unpaid leave and are not able to cover benefit premiums, the Benefits Team will keep track of what you owe while you are out on leave. When you return from leave, we will let you know the balance due. We can then divide the balance over several pay periods to be recouped in addition to your normal benefit deductions on each paycheck.
